Community Prayer Breakfast goes Saturday

A bountiful breakfast buffet and a morning of inspirational music and messages is on the menu this Saturday, when the Elk Point and District Chamber of Commerce hosts their Community Prayer Breakfast in the Elk Point Seniors Recreation Centre.

This is a non-denominational event, with prayers and readings by local residents, beautiful music by the Quist Family gospel group and an inspirational message by guest speaker Dr. Dorothy Ryan, a Lloydminster psychologist.

Everyone is invited to come and enjoy a restful, uplifting beginning to the weekend. Tickets are available at Hillside Service, Kelly's Closet, Elk Point Insurance and Realty and the Elk Point Review.

The Chamber is also gearing up for a much bigger breakfast on Canada Day, July 1. Sherry Pelech will once again coordinate the event, with volunteers from local businesses all pitching in to serve up pancakes, sausages and coffee to huge Canada Day crowds. The location will once again be in front of the Elk Point Liquor and Cold Beer Store.

The Chamber heard reports on two successful events held in recent weeks. Some good information was presented at the pre-election Candidates' Forum, and many interested viewers took in the Happy Daze Classic Car Show.

The Chamber's Tourist Information Centre opens June 15, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. and will be open Wednesdays through Sundays.

THE GENTLE ART OF THE JAPANESE TEA CEREMONY was displayed to Elk Point Grade Two students by Mikiko Shimano, who served tea to Jodi Vogel. Miss Shimano, who is currently involved in an internship program at J. E. Dion School, Fishing Lake, also treated Mrs. Boothman's and Mrs. Conrad's students to a Japanese lunch and demonstrated flower arranging, calligraphy and origami. More photos, Page 4.

Elk Point 4-Hers winners at District Show

An 1190-pound steer which had won the St. Paul 4-H Club championship earlier in the weekend was chosen as the Inter-Club Champion at the St. Paul District 4-H Show and Sale on Monday, June 2. Irene Chamberland's big red steer came into the Parade of Champions with 13 other top calves chosen from a total of 93 calves in five weight classes earlier in the afternoon, and was chosen by conformation judge Gordon Rattray as the top steer of the show. Jules Malo of St. Lina showed the Reserve Champion.

The day-long show yielded a bumper crop of achievements, resulting from a busy year of 4-H activities. St. Lina

4-H Club, which celebrates their 60th anniversary this year, had the top Club Display, while St. Paul Multi Club had the best Stall Display.

Each of the clubs involved in the show participated in Club Judging, with St. Paul placing first and St. Lina second.

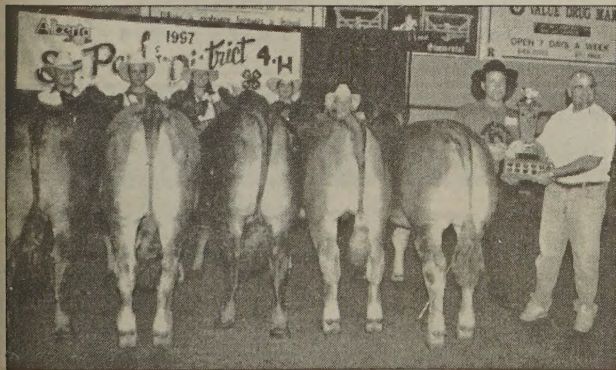

Five well-matched steers from the Elk Point 4-H Multi Club topped the Pen of Five competition.

The steer who gained the most weight per day was shown by Laurence Ouellette of St. Lina, at 3.32 pounds, with a close second, at 3.22 pounds, shown by Robyn Danyluk of Elk Point.

Grooming and showmanship are an important part of 4-H, and those with the top skills in these areas were recognized for their hard work. Jaylynn Wirsta, Elk Point, took top honors in Junior Grooming, with Mark Ference, Elk Point in second place, while Eric Dargis and Melonie Dargis, both of Goodridge, placed first and second in Senior Grooming.

Michael Fontaine of St. Paul was named top Junior Showman, with Louise Dechaine of St. Lina second, and Irene Chamberland of St. Paul led the Senior category with James Babenek second.

HERE'S THE BEEF! Elk Point's Pen of Five took top honors at the Inter Club Steer Show, winning the Toronto Dominion Bank trophy. Showing the steers were Robyn Danyluk, James Babenek, Amanda Wirsta, Cory Marcoux and Peter Danyluk. Leader Ken Ference accepts the trophy.

JAYLYNN WIRSTA AND MARK FERENCE placed first and second in the Junior Grooming at the Inter Club Steer Show and Sale in St. Paul last week.

From the FCSS desk...

Father's Day is Sunday, June 15th

By Deanna Easthope
FCSS Director

Mother's Day is past and now it is Father's Day. I am glad these two months are close together for it helps us not to forget our parents.

In reading the Second Helping of Chicken Soup for the Soul, Ann Landers expounds on feelings about fathers. It begins with "My Father When I Was..."

4 years old: My daddy can do anything.

5 years old: My daddy knows a whole lot.

6 years old: My dad is smarter than your dad.

8 years old: My dad doesn't know exactly everything.

10 years old: In the olden days when my dad grew up, things were sure different.

12 years old: Oh, well, naturally, Father doesn't know anything about that. He is too old to remember his childhood.

14 years old: Don't pay any attention to my Father. He is so old-fashioned!

21 years old: Him? My Lord, he's hopelessly out-of-date.

25 years old: Dad knows a little bit about it, but then he should because he has been around so long.

30 years old: Maybe we should ask Dad what he thinks. After all, he's had a lot of experience.

35 years old: I'm not doing a single thing until I talk to Dad.

40 years old: I wonder how Dad would have handled it. He was so wise and had a world of experience.

learned a lot from him."

Let's not forget our Dads this Father's Day. They are a special part of our lives. Happy Father's Day, Dad!

In praise of farmers

This Friday is Farmers Day. But will this be a day when you find tractors sitting idly in the field, the cattle going unchecked, and the weeds growing unheeded, while those who are being honored sit under a tree in the shade with a cool lemonade in their hand, or perhaps being honored at a banquet with speeches praising their virtues?

Not a chance, unless, God forbid, it's raining.

Given a choice, and some sunshine, the farmers will be out there as usual, trying their hardest to get their crop in the ground. This year, spring work has been an extra complicated procedure, since many farmers first had to finish last year's harvest. They are finding that combining, or even baling, are just as impossible in spring rain as it was in autumn snow, and the damage done by mice, deer and other wildlife is making this belated harvest even more difficult.

Even if the harvest is completed, it is still far from easy to put in a crop this year. Potholes are appearing where they never were before, and the potholes of other years have grown into lakes. A person needs a spare -- and very large -- tractor standing by just to pull them out when they get mired.

Even fencing is difficult when the ground is as wet as it is this spring. Without fences, you can't put your cattle out to pasture, even though the grass is getting quite lush from all that moisture.

Farming is always a challenge, and this year it is even more so. So why do these people keep carrying on business as usual, rather than saying, Forget It! and heading for the city to life a less strenuous existence? It's because farming is more than a job. It's a lifestyle that has been handed down from generation to generation, and one that many of these people cannot imagine leaving. They would miss the wide, blue sky, the song of the birds, the wind in their hair, the glow of a sunset seen from a tractor seat. No paycheck could compare with the satisfaction of seeing a newborn calf or grain pouring from the combine auger. And it's a good thing that they feel that way.

Farmers are the backbone of our nation.

AN ORIENTAL ART FORM in folded paper, known as Origami, was demonstrated to the combined Grade 2 classes by Mikiko Shimano. Two squares of shiny, brightly colored paper soon became a three-dimensional horse under her guidance. Mikiko's handsome navy and white kimono, with a red obi sash, is a traditional costume worn only on formal occasions in modern-day Japan.

GRACEFUL ARRANGEMENTS of flowering shrubs and wildflowers in the Japanese style incorporate the elements of heaven, humanity and sky in their design in these creations by Mikiko Shimano.

Let's work together to keep our children safe

Unfortunately, not all the sounds of summer are pleasant. The helpless cry of a little girl as she hits her head on the pavement in a fall from her bicycle. A frantic mother making desperate attempts to breathe life into her young son found floating in the family swimming pool. This year, these tragic scenes will probably become a painful reality for one in four Canadian families. Childhood injury is a critical national problem that affects every community across the country.

Every year, more Canadian children die from preventable injuries than all childhood diseases combined. Thousands more are seriously injured. Here are some tips from Safe Kids Canada for a safer summer.

Buckle up for a safe ride

Proper use of car seats and seat belts can dramatically reduce a child's risk of injury and death if involved in a car crash.

*Any car seat sold in Canada must meet Canadian Motor Vehicle safety standards. This information can be found on a label on the car seat.

*Children in forward facing car seats must have their car seat secured to the car with a tether strap, and fastened to the frame of the car with an anchor bolt.

*Car seats are effective only if the child is the right weight and height for the car seat. Children who have outgrown their car seat must use a seat belt.

Riding a bike? Wear a helmet.

Bicycle crashes are the leading cause of hospital admissions for head injuries to children. Wearing a bike helmet can reduce the risk of head and brain injury by 85%.

*Buy a helmet approved by the Canadian Standards Association, available for as little as $15.

*A helmet should fit snugly on a child's head. It should not tilt backwards or slide down over his or her eyes. The chin strap should always be tight enough that only one finger can fit between the chin strap and the child's chin.

Watch out for water hazards.

Children must always be supervised in or near water. In 1993, 86 children in Canada under the age of 15 died from drowning.

*A backyard swimming pool or hot tub should be surrounded by a fence at least four feet high and difficult to climb. The fence should have a gate that closes and locks by itself.

*Children should wear life jackets at all times when in, on or near water. Teach children to test water depths before diving in.

*Young children under the age of five can drown in bathtubs, buckets or toilet bowls. Supervise children while in the bathtub. Empty out buckets immediately after use. Use a toilet lock to protect curious toddlers.

Play Safe.

Choking is the most common cause of playground death.

*Remove drawstrings and tuck in scarves or other loose clothing to prevent choking.

*Teach children that skipping ropes should not be used at the playground.

Home safe home

Simple home improvements such as safety gates, locked cabinets, smoke detectors and anti-scalding devices can help create a safer environment for children. Keep emergency numbers by your telephone.

County approves road upgrading tenders

Roads east of Elk Point are scheduled for upgrading this summer, with the County of St. Paul approving two tenders at their May 13 and 21 meetings.

Secondary Highway 646 will receive a new layer of pavement from three miles east of Highway 41 to the Lindbergh access road at the bottom of the hill, with a $1,196,149 tender by Everall Construction approved for the job. Reeve Ray Danyluk says "designs are in place" for upgrading the hill east of the Lindbergh turnoff. "We're just waiting for funding for that."

Five miles of the Murphy Oil Resource Road north of S.H. 646 will be reggraded by Lentz Equipment Repairs, who submitted a $837,371 tender. Danyluk says "the equipment is there, now all we need is cooperation from the weather, and they'll be at work." He hopes for approval of a grant to pave the Murphy road from SH 646 to the county line.

CANADIAN PROFESSIONAL CHUCKWAGON SEASON UNDERWAY -- In the first meet of the 1997 season at Grand Centre, Gary Gorst edges the Heinsburg Esso and Junction Liquor Store outfit ahead of George Stanley's Midway Distributor's rig to cross the finish line. Bert Croteau led the standings after two days of racing, but the winners were not determined until Monday due to rescheduling of Friday's rained-out races. This week, the CPCA action moves to Dewberry, with races Saturday at 7 p.m. and Sunday at 2 p.m.

Bensmiller wins in Grand Prairie

Dewberry's Buddy Bensmiller took the dash-for-the-cash heat at the Grand Prairie Stompede, after finishing first on the first night of racing, a disappointing 20th on the second night and seventh on the third night to sit fourth overall going into the final. He led the pack of Jason Glass, Reg Johnstone and Tom Glass over the finish line with a time of 1:18.53, 17/100 of a second faster than Jason Glass, who now tops the World Standings. Bensmiller is sitting second for the season.

The next show for the World Professional Chuckwagon Association is a five day show at High River which is spread out over two weekends, June 14, 15, 20, 21 and 22.

Rain disrupts minor ball

By Doug Bassett
Elk Point Minor Ball

In the month of May, with all the rain, only five complete games were played for the White Sox. You would think with the beginning of June the weather would improve, but that was not the case this past week, with games washed out on Tuesday and Thursday. The only team tough enough to play in the rain was Lois Mutch's Peeewees. With help from Mosquitoes Jordan Cousins, Deven Moneta, Jason Kalynchuk and Kurt Kozicky, they defeated St. Paul and Bonnyville and improved their record, only losing once this season. Home runs on Thursday by Matt Buksa and Brian Poitras and great pitching in his first game by young Derek Birkett.

The White Sox did, however, manage to play this past weekend in the eight team, two day league tournament in Two Hills. The team found themselves shorthanded Saturday morning. With the host team's permission, the Sox put Tyler Warawa's sister Tori in the lineup and started the game. Tyler, on the mound, found himself in trouble early and the Sox were down 6-0 after two innings. The Sox started their own rally in the fifth inning, tied the game with the help of young Jon Yake, who was called up from the bantam team and had three hits and two RBIs. The boys (and girl) would lose this one to Two Hills in the bottom of the seventh inning 7-6.

The second game on Sunday morning was against Chipman. With ten players in the lineup, Once again the Sox were in trouble early and found themselves down by three runs in the first inning, before Jordan Bassett started to throw his heater and found the strike zone, striking out nine batters and allowing six hits. Holding down Chipman, the boys finally tied the game in the fifth inning, when Denny Huddy on his third hit of the game, drove in the tying run. Going into extra innings, the Sox lost another close one 4-3, sending them home, but at least they got to play!

This coming week the Sox travel to Cold Lake on Tuesday night for a home and home series with Cold Lake, returning to Elk Point on Thursday. Then on Saturday and Sunday the Sox are in Consort for the North East League finals.

AWNA announces Write On contest provincial winners

to the following students who were chosen as provincial winners and received cash prizes, T-shirts and certificates from Awna. Write On is a student writing contest, sponsored by the Alberta Weekly Newspapers Association (AWNA). It offers opportunities for the publication of student work and some great prizes for students. Write On is three contests: one for students in Grades 1 to 3, one for Grades 4 - 6 and the other for Grades

7 - 12. It's a great way to motivate students to read, to write, to do some creative and critical thinking using their local community newspaper.

Judging for this year's provincial winners was a very difficult task. In some categories, the cash prizes had to be split between two students.

AWNA would like to also congratulate the students who were chosen as local winners in their communities.

Special thanks goes to the 1,200+ students who participated in this year's Write On contest. Thank you also to the students' teachers and parents, who played a major role.

Without the continued support and involvement of Awna's member community newspapers, the Write On contest would not be as successful as it is. Awna appreciates and thanks them for their invaluable time and efforts.

Watch for 1998 contest details in the ATA's October 1997 issue.
One of next year's lucky winners may be your student!

At our April 6, "Mini Achievement Day" for the beef project, Richard Lavoie from the Alberta Treasury Branch presented Awards of Excellence to two members. James Babenek received a Bronze and Tim Havener received a Gold. The Alberta Treasury Branch recognizes ongoing achievement with the 4-H program and the awards are earned, based on accumulated diary points.

Another great reason to make this an Alberta summer.

What's news at the library?

The home stretch of another school year

By Michele Ducek
Librarian

A heartfelt thank you goes out to the Alberta Wheat Pool here in Elk Point who donated a pail of wheat for a game I'm making for use during the READiscover Summer Reading Program. To see the fruits of their generosity, stop by the library this summer and we'll let you have a go at the game.

In honor of the fact that we are in the home stretch for the school year (and the fact that I'm expecting a whole new batch of children's books in the next few days) we gave these latest titles in juvenile fiction:

Jessica's enjoying her internship on a fashion magazine and dating two great guys in Model Flirt from Sweet Valley Twins.

Elizabeth looks for proof that her boss is unscrupulous and Jessica can't decide between the two men in her life in Fashion Victim, also from Sweet Valley High.

Jessica and Elizabeth are hired to be in a cereal commercial but they disagree on how to do the job in Breakfast of Enemies from Sweet Valley Twins.

Elizabeth is forced by her twin to assume Jessica's identity to impress a boy on a camping trip in Jessica's First Kiss from Sweet Valley Twins.

Mallory thinks one of her teachers is favoring the boys in the class in Don't Give Up, Mallory from The Baby-Sitters Club.

Karen finds a treasure map that shows there is treasure buried in her back yard in Karen's Treasure from Baby-

Sitters Little Sister.

Carole has to get over her jealousy of the skills of the new rider at the stables in order to help the girl in Silver Stirrups from The Saddle Club.

The kids think that the new track coach at camp may be a mermaid in Mermaids Don't Run Track from the Bailey School Kids.

Zackie wants to be a famous horror writer but when he finds an old typewriter that makes everything he types real, he's in big trouble in The Blob That Ate Everything from Goosebumps.

When the kids find a toy that lets them travel through time, they change the past which threatens their existence in the present in Time Terror from Spooksville.

Frank and Joe join the circus to help an old friend of Frank's whose job as a clown turns out to be more dangerous than he thought in High-Wire Act from the Hardy Boys Casefiles.

Night of the Twisters by Ivy Ruckman pits a young boy and his friend against a series of tornadoes that rip through their small community.

When the first female player on a WHL team is suspended for steroids, Chiefs goaltender Joseph Larkin suspects she may have been framed in Chief Honor by Sigmund Brouwer.
